

WILL TEST THE LAW'S VALIDITY

It Is Certain The New Two-Cent Fare Measure Signed By Governor Will Go To The Courts.

WORK OF THE COMMISSION UNDONE

Wisconsin Central Is Said To Be Ready To Make Test Case—Legislature Has Adjourned Since Die.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., July 17.—The published interview with Governor Davidson, to the effect that he signed the two-cent passenger rate bill not as an affront to the railroad rate commission, but as a measure of retaliation for the various actions charged against the companies, has seemingly thrown the gauntlet down to the companies and today it is said to be assured that the roads will resist the application of the new law by going into court with complaints alleging the unconstitutionality of the measure that was hurried through the legislature at the last moment and under suspension of all rules.

The Wisconsin Central.

It is said that the Wisconsin Central will bring the action, but all the big roads will be backing the litigation and the best railroad attorneys of the country will be pooled to make the strongest possible presentation of the case. Leading lawyers here declare that the decision of the railroad rate commission, carrying with it the voluminous figures of the exhaustive and scientific investigation that resulted in a decision against a two-cent rate, will provide the railroads with practically unassailable evidence with which to knock out the new law.

Has One Chance.

The only possibility of the new law coming through the fire of litigation unscathed is the throwing over by the courts of the doctrine laid down by the rate commission to the effect that passenger traffic and freight traffic should be kept separate and distinct so far as the determination of reasonableness of rates is concerned, and that no reduction of passenger rates should be made that would result in a loss to the railroads on the passenger business to be made up and recuperated out of freight earnings, for the failure to maintain such a doctrine would invite excessive freight rates—more important to the people than passenger rates—and the railroads could defend their high freight rates by declaring that the two-cent law for passenger fare necessitated higher freight rates.

Grave Danger.

This is pointed to as the grave danger that lies in the promised litigation of the two-cent law. Either the new law will stand and a loop hole left for higher freight rates, or the law will fall and possibly the passenger rate will go back to three cents a mile, for lawyers are heard to declare that inasmuch as the Turner bill, now a law, declaring for a maximum passenger rate of two cents a mile, amended the three cent statute, the knocking out of the Turner bill would revive the three cent statute, and the order of the commission for two cents a mile would go for nothing.

Eleven Roads.

The new law applies to all roads whose gross receipts in Wisconsin amount to $2,500 or more per mile per annum. Eleven roads are affected, but two of them do no passenger business. The nine which will have to reduce their rates are:

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.
Chicago & North-Western.
Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha.
Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.
Wisconsin Central.
Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie.

Northern Pacific.

Kewaunee, Green Bay and Western.
Drummond and Southwestern.

The two roads within the earnings limit, but which do not carry passengers in Wisconsin, are the Great Northern, which operates a belt line at Superior, and the Chicago, Lake Shore & Eastern, which has a switching road at Milwaukee.

Governor Gives His Reasons.

After signing the measure Gov. Davidson said:

"I was induced to sign the bill because I believe that the people of the state wanted me to do so. In view of the fact that the railroads have announced that they soon expected to give the people of the states surrounding Wisconsin a 2 cent rate, and that the state railroad commission could not order any reduction in rates within six months at the earliest, and that the legislature passed the Turner bill after considering it several months, I felt in duty bound to approve the measure."

"I do not consider the bill any reflection on the state railroad commission, and do not think the members of that body so consider it."

"The railroads have been discriminating against the people of Wisconsin by refusing to check baggage to points in other states on mileage bought here; have charged excessive rates for sleeping car privileges to persons with such mileage, and have harassed the traveling public in many other ways. Today it is practically impossible for women and children in Wisconsin to travel without being compelled to pay 3 cents per mile."

Legislature Adjourns.

At ten twenty last evening the legislature of 1907 adjourned sine die after a session of 189 days during which 683 acts were passed. This breaks all records for the length of a session and the amount of work done. Many bills for the regulation of corporation interests have been passed and the results to be obtained from the work just completed will be most interesting to watch.

REPUBLICS OF CENTRAL AMERICA READY FOR WAR

Nicaraguan Minister Confers With Acting Secretary Of State At Washington—Takes Hopeful View.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—Senor Corea, Nicaraguan minister to Washington, had another long conference today with Acting Secretary of State Bacon, relative to Central American affairs, which, according to reports from the City of Mexico, are in a condition rapidly approaching actual warfare. The minister takes an optimistic view of the future, saying: "There will be no war; a continuance of peace in Central America is certain." Coming from him, this expression is regarded as important.

San Salvador, July 17.—An armed clash, which, it is believed, will involve all Central America, probably will occur within 15 days. It is expected that the first battle will be between Salvador and Nicaragua.

Gen. Lee Christman, the American, who was wounded in the recent war between Nicaragua and Honduras, has been appointed general in command of a Salvadoran regiment. Gen. Chamorro is expected from Guatemala on the next ship. Upon his arrival he will proclaim himself provisional president of Nicaragua.

Mexico City, July 17.—Official and diplomatic circles in this capital were greatly excited Tuesday by the report that a great outbreak of hostilities in Central America was likely to occur within the next 15 days. The news reached here from Salvador in the

It is thought that the much-heralded struggle for supremacy in Central America is about to be waged and Yelaya of Nicaragua, and Cabrera of Guatemala, will be the real antagonists, the other Central American states involved being merely pawns to be used by the two men who seek mastery over all Central America.

According to the wording of the cable dispatch it appears probable that Salvador, Guatemala and certain forces in Honduras have united to fight Nicaragua and drive Yelaya from the presidential chair of the country.

BOB FITZSIMMONS IN RING TONIGHT

Veteran Heavyweight to Appear in Exhibition Bout Before Elks at Philadelphia.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 17.—Tonight, for the first time since he was knocked out by Jack O'Brien in December, 1905, the veteran Bob Fitzsimmons is to don the padded mitts and face an opponent in the ring. As a part of the entertainment program prepared for the visiting Elks the Washington Sporting club has arranged for a six-round bout between the former champion and Jack Johnson, the big colored heavyweight. It is the first time in a year or more that a fight between heavyweights of known ability has been pulled off in the East and as a consequence keen interest is manifested in the event. The club expects a record-breaking crowd at the ringside. The ring followers are curious to see if Fitzsimmons is "all in" as has been the general impression in sporting circles ever since the fight with O'Brien. If the Australian retains any considerable part of his old-time cleverness and hitting powers it goes without saying that Johnson will have to keep busy during the six-round engagement. In his prime Fitzsimmons would have disposed of a man of Johnson's calibre in very short order. Whether, at forty-five years of age, he is still possessed of sufficient vitality to turn the trick remains to be seen. Many of the old-time admirers do not hesitate to assert their belief that he is still more than a match for a fighter of Johnson's class.

MURDER TRIAL OF PROF. HAU BEGUN AT KARLSRUHE

Former Member Of George Washington University Faculty In Court On Charge Of Killing Mother-In-Law.

[ALLEZTO SUR ON TWISSEL]

Karlsruhe, Germany, July 17.—Karl Hau, the young professor formerly attached to George Washington University, Washington, D. C., was placed on trial here today for the alleged murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor. The former high standing of the accused, the mystery surrounding the alleged crime and the recent suicide of Prof. Hau's young wife have combined to attract widespread attention to the case and the trial will doubtless attract great attention throughout Europe and in America. Notwithstanding the fact that he has been formally examined and pronounced sane by experts, it is probable that mental irresponsibility will play a part in the defense of Prof. Hau. He is represented by eminent counsel and it is evident that a hard fight will be made to save him from conviction.

Frau Molitor was the widow of the medical councilor, Dr. Molitor, of Baden-Baden. On the evening of Nov. 6 last she was called to the telephone in her home at Baden-Baden and received a request to go to the post office and get a parcel that was there for her. She started at once. When passing through a quiet street a shot was fired from behind her, and Frau Molitor fell dead. The man who fired the shot was seen, but he escaped. It is stated that Frau Molitor had been long threatened, and that cunning plots were laid against her. The motive of the alleged crime appears to have been greed for money. Frau Molitor, who was wealthy, it is said, refused many times to comply with Hau's request for money, having given her daughter a considerable dowry, and arranged that she should inherit part of her fortune.

Karl Hau, the accused man, is not yet 30 years of age. He is tall and slender, well educated and of refined appearance. He was just 20 when he married Miss Molitor. It was an elopement, and the young couple began a restless, roving life. Hau had begun to study law at the University of Freiburg, but had discontinued his studies.

While the marriage itself, contracted against the mother's will, carried with it all the elements calculated to disturb the relations between the mother and her children, the continuous applications for money also did not contribute toward improving her relations with her son-in-law. Nevertheless she received the couple into her home upon their visits to Baden-Baden, and she sent them money during their travels.

The stuns sent, however, were not co-so large as Hau demanded. Hence the life of the family was always a distressing story. It is probable too that Frau Molitor's harshness contributed toward increasing the disagreements in the Hau family. At any rate she sometimes made trouble for him, even abroad, by denouncing him as an anarchist to the authorities.

Hau was arrested in London a few weeks after the alleged murder. At the time of his arrest he denied all connection with the crime and has ever since stuck to his story, though it is said that he has made several damaging admissions. At his preliminary examination he admitted that he had been at Baden-Baden up to the time when the murder occurred. It has been ascertained, moreover, that he wore a false beard in traveling from Baden-Baden to England. Frau Molitor's servant girl who answered the telephone on the fatal day asserted positively after the murder that she had recognized Hau's voice in the telephone.

One of the pathetic features of the case was the suicide of Prof. Hau's young wife. On June 8 she was seen to swim far out into a lake near Pfaffikon, Switzerland, and then deliberately sank beneath the waters. Two days previously she had paid a visit to her husband in prison here. She left the prison in a state of the utmost depression and went back to Pfaffikon. A long farewell letter was found in her clothing after her suicide, in which she declared that it was impossible for her to any longer bear the sorrow of living apart from her husband, notwithstanding the charge brought against him. The governor of the prison informed Prof. Hau of his wife's suicide and a story was circulated at the time that the accused man had then confessed to the murder of his mother-in-law. This story subsequently was found to be without foundation.

Although greatly affected by his troubles and particularly by the loss of his wife, the accused man has continued to bear up well. He has received every reasonable consideration from the authorities and the prison officials. When arrested he had a large sum of money in his possession and this he was allowed to retain and to spend as he wished. In prison he has occupied a room by himself and has been permitted to have his meals sent from a nearby hotel. He is a Roman Catholic and has been comforted by frequent visits from priests of that faith. He enjoys unlimited reading matter, and his only deprivation has been tobacco.

SPELLS FAILURE
OR IS VICTORY

GOVERNMENT'S SUIT AGAINST THE TOBACCO TRUST.

THE AFFAIR AS ANALYZED

William Wolff Smith Writes on This Subject for the Gazette.

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., July 16.—It is announced that the attempt to annul a suit of the government against the American Tobacco company and its allies and subsidiaries, when the propositions advanced are so novel, so important and so sensational as to need no embroidery. Yellow journalism is so accustomed to manufacturing sensationalism that it overlooks the real thing when it is presented.
Calmly stated, the case of the government against the tobacco trust means that the government has found the solution of the trust problem or it is at the end of its rope and additional legislation must be had, probably of a character to compel the trusts to take out federal charters.
The importance of this case cannot be exaggerated. No question of domestic economy or administration is as close to the people today as the regulation of trusts and combinations and the breaking up and prevention of monopolies. Even the tariff is presently important, principally because of the feeling that the steel, sugar, leather, beet and other combinations are possible because of its protection. It is not generally known that the Standard Oil company is free from fear of foreign competition because of a clause in the tariff act, but such is the case. Therefore if the administration, the President and his legal advisers, have hit upon the solution of the trust problem, the effect upon our industrial situation will be incalculable and that they will reap the full reward of acclaim and honors goes without saying. The compelling of these combinations to observe the law under the pain of dissolution will be an achievement far greater than any in President Roosevelt's history, and is calculated to advance him above all other Presidents. The Northern Securities case will be cast in the shade, should this suit be successful, and the end of the monopolies will be in sight.

A wrong impression has gone abroad and it will be hard to overtake. The government does not ask for receivers for the defendant combinations on the ground that they have been violating the law. It claims they have violated the law and if the case is proven it will be up to the courts to put an end to such violations. The natural course under our laws and procedure would be the issuing of injunctions preventing the defendants from doing an interstate business as long as the contracts, declared to be illegal, exist. This would mean the destruction of the business as it is possible to operate it successfully only because of the condition of inter-dependence existing between its component parts. The ability of the trust to carry out its thousands of contracts with growers, manufacturers, jobbers, retailers, employees and others, depends on its continuing to do an interstate business which it could not under an injunction. As a solution the government suggests that the court, if it thinks the public interest will be better subserved thereby, shall appoint receivers for the various companies. This would throw the books, contracts and business directly under the supervision of the courts. If the receivers found it possible to successfully continue the different branches of the business without illegal contracts and in lawful competition with other manufacturers and dealers, well and good. In that case the concerns would be continued in operation. But if the existence of the trust was found to depend on the continuance of illegal methods and unscrupulous competition, as has been charged, then the only course would be for the receivers to wind up its affairs, by disposing of stock, assets and good-will to the best advantage of the stockholders.
A receivership seems to be the only possible outcome of the successful prosecution of this case, in any event, for if prevented from engaging in interstate business by means of injunction, the defendants would be speedily driven into bankruptcy, which would mean receiverships. The government merely suggests the shortest and most unpleasant route.

An analysis of the case in brief space is impossible as it presents questions necessitating precedent-making decisions as to what constitutes violations of existing law, of the rights of foreign corporations, and of the treatment of offenders.
The primary step is to prove the defendants guilty of the acts charged and that such acts are illegal. To this end the government has utilized the resources of its various branches and for several years has had a corps of special agents and attorneys devoting their attention to this work.
It is unlikely the government would inaugurate a suit on which so much

Try This For Catarrh.

Free tests are now being supplied by mail to all Catarrh sufferers. There is no expense—no obligation whatever.
Dr. Shoop is combining Oil of Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, Oil of Wintergreen, etc., and is incorporating these ingredients into a pure, snow-white cream-like Imported Petroleum. This Creation—Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy—gives immediate and lasting relief to catarrh of the nose and throat. That all may first test it free, these trial boxes are being mailed without charge, simply to encourage these tests and fully demonstrate, beyond doubt, the value of this combination.

If Catarrh has extended down to the depends without believing that it was fully equipped with evidence. It will be a royal contest. The tobacco trust has a corps of counsel second to none and as Mr. Duke says, it has proceeded under their advice in the organization of the various combinations. It is said by those in a position to know that the American Tobacco company has really been attempting to comply with the law and where the legality of its methods has been found to be questionable, it has changed them. That its regular counsel will be assisted by any special counsel they may desire, is certain, for the trust has almost unlimited resources and the private fortunes of such men as Bryan and Duke are at stake. In addition, the British companies are involved and while they could buy their tobacco in English markets, even if forbidden to do so in this country, they will doubtless put in a defense. But should these resources fail there will be the bank account of the Standard Oil, beef, leather, lumber, sugar and other trusts on which to draw for this cause, if decided in favor of the government, will wind them up. It would be then merely a question of time until the government put them through the same mill. Against these resources are pitted the department of justice with the better part of a half million-dollar appropriation at its disposal. Back of it stands the government and funds a plenty, for all that will be necessary will be to ask for the money needed and congress will see that it is forthcoming. A conviction, once secured in the New York circuit court, and the path leads to the United States supreme court and the case will be fought with the greatest stubbornness and ingenuity on both sides.

Every weapon in the legal armory will be in play. If the government wins, all that will be necessary in the case of other trusts will be to prove violations of the law, and presto, the trust is out of business or in the hands of a receiver. The process is absurdly simple. Again, if the government wins, we must all take off our hats to Roosevelt as a trust buster. On the other hand, if the government loses it is up to us to get some new laws.
The spectacular halting of aged millionaires into court or the imposition of small fines is of no effect except to make the great government of the United States rather ridiculous.

Those who criticize the administration for proposing to send some of their own warships from one part of our coast to another on the ground that such a movement is calculated to unwarrantably offend the Japanese would be the first to let out a howl about our unpreparedness were serious trouble to arise with Japan and she would strike up in a vital spot without warning, as she did Russia.
Roosevelt has always been forehanded. It was due to his vigorous insistence that the American fleet in Asiatic waters was sufficiently well prepared to take and hold Manila.
That he accomplished while Assistant Secretary of the Navy and as President it is natural he does not propose we shall sit idle and let Japan prepare to slip a knife under our fifth rib. The sending of our fleet to the Pacific is no more an unfriendly act toward Japan than her trade in constructing war vessels and in acquiring a merchant marine is toward us. Naturally enough, as she holds the balance of power in the Pacific she proposes to maintain it if possible, and if she can prevent us from strengthening our equipment while she goes ahead with hers, so much the better for her. The world realizes that if there is war it will be provoked by Japan, and the world also realizes that when Japan means to go to war with this country or not, she is placing herself in readiness to strike or defend. She is the ally of England, the only other power she has to fear in her struggle for the su-premaccy of the Pacific. Russia will not be able to place or maintain a fleet in Asiatic waters for years to come.
It is true her designs upon China may bring her into conflict with France or Germany, but war between Japan and these countries is scarcely even a remote possibility. Why then does Japan increase its fleet and bring all its energies to bear to strengthen its merchant marine, paying the most liberal subsidies from the laying of the keel?

The talk about the United States winning "in the long run" may well be discounted. It is a question if we can stand for that "long run." What should be the moral effect of the loss of the Philippines, Hawaii and Guam?
The first Japan could take without appreciable difficulty. In Hawaii she has thousands of Japanese now and more coming. Granted her overwhelming fleet could put out of business on the Asiatic station, what is to prevent her last merchant vessels converted into cruisers and perhaps privateers from harrying our Pacific Coast? But suppose she merely took the Philippines, when and how would we get them back? Would the American people stand for the tremendous expenditure of blood and treasure necessary to recover them, especially when the Philippines would doubtless fight with the other side? By the time we could get our fleet over to Manila or Japan, the Japanese would be ready for us and even if we won a great naval battle they would be at home and what was left of our ships would be in a sore plight for a haven. It is unpleasant to contemplate this situation but we have too long pursued the policy of complacently watching Japan's progress toward preparation for war. Common sense demands that we make suitable provision for defense while there is yet time.

sult of the crossing of an electric wire with cables leading into the Wisconsin Telephone Co.'s office in the Carle block, shortly after eight o'clock last evening, a fuse was burned out back of the switch-board and cable-coverings just outside the rooms set afire. The fire department responded to a still alarm and fought the blaze successfully with sand.
Though the damage was not exten-

GOOD WEATHER HAS BENEFITED CROPS

New State Law Just Passed Which Will Interest Nurserymen and Others.

The weather during the week ending July 15th was generally clear with moderate temperature throughout the state. The week opened with fairly settled conditions, though there was cloudiness in the southern section but this mostly passed away during the 9th. On Tuesday the weather continued clear and pleasant with moderate temperature, followed on Wednesday with increasing cloudiness and very beneficial showers in the central and southern sections.
The weather had cleared again in all sections by Thursday night and the two following days were exceptionally fine. During Saturday night, the 12th, the cloudiness increased and rain began in the western section, and the rain area gradually covered the state during Sunday and Sunday night, the week closing with stormy weather covering the entire state.

The mean temperature during the week averaged about normal. Although the weather was moderately warm at times there were no very high temperatures reported in the state.

The total precipitation was unevenly distributed throughout the state, ranging from over two inches in the northwest and south central counties to less than one-half inch in the east central section.

A new law has just been passed which will be of interest both to nurserymen and to persons buying nursery stock. It provides for uniform inspection by the agricultural experiment station of the state university of all nurseries growing and offering stock for sale in the state, such inspection being for the purpose of determining whether or not the nurseries are free from dangerous fungus and insect pests. In the past this has been optional with the nurserymen, but hereafter all nurseries must be inspected. Parties who are growing plants for sale, other than greenhouse plants, should make application at once for inspection to J. G.
Moore, Inspector, Experiment Station, Madison, Wis. If the inspecting is done during the regular inspection season the cost will be much less than where done out of season. All nurserymen should give this matter their immediate attention.

PREPARING FOR THE CHAUTAUQUA

SECRETARY CHARLES W. REEDER AND ASSISTANTS BUSY.

MOLE'S GROVE LIKE A PARK

Brush and Weeds Removed—New Dock to be Built—Concessions Granted.

Secretary Charles W. Reeder and a corps of assistants are busily engaged in making preparations for the third annual Assembly of the Janesville Chautauqua Association. The ten day program, to be given in Mole's Grove on the western bank of Rock river, will be opened July 26, a week from Friday. Talent costing altogether two thousand dollars, has been engaged to furnish entertainment, instructive and amusing, and arrangements for the presentation of this program are now under way.

The Grove Improved.
Mole's Grove will be more attractive than ever this year. Every bit of underbrush and all weeds have been removed and the place is a veritable park. Grass has been cut and a few obstructive trees have been razed. The natural gully that drains the place has been cleared out and rains will not necessarily mean wet feet to those attending the assembly. New fences have been erected on two sides of the grove. Horses will this year be tied inside the grounds and the southern edge of the park has been studded with hitching posts. The driveway from Washington street to the arch under the railway tracks will be leveled considerably. Small rises will be cut down and depressions will be filled by the removed earth and several extra loads of gravel.

Transit Accommodations.
Transit accommodations for reaching the park and returning homeward will be better than ever. Superintendent Murphy of the Janesville street car company is planning to run special cars as usual. Three boats will ply between the Fourth avenue dock and the grounds. These will be the steamers Columbia and City Belle, and probably a speedy launch accommodating twenty passengers. The boat owners will build an entirely new and larger dock at the grounds and expect to maintain a half hour schedule.

Refreshment Concessions.
This year the restaurant man will be run by an expert restaurant man. He will furnish both hot meals and lunches at reasonable rates. The Chautauqua management has decided to let this concession in future years only to such persons, barring amateurs and societies. The ice cream cone concession has also been granted. One application for the peanut, pop-corn and soft drink stand has been filed and the concession will be awarded in the near future. A hand pump will be placed on the well and several barrels attached thereto. Barrels, supplied with water and ice, will also be distributed about the grounds.

Forty Campers' Tents.
Boss Canvasser Lewis will arrive here a day or so before the opening of the Chautauqua and superintendent stretching of tents. The auditorium canopy will be the same size as last year, 80x120. Forty family compartment tents have been rented by the association and these will be left to campers at reasonable prices. Secretary Reeder has already closed contracts for some and expects the number of campers will be larger than ever. The tents are 12x19 and 14x21 and both kinds contain five rooms. This year the tents will be a distance of seventy-five feet from the auditorium, so that tent ropes and campers' hammocks will not interfere with the audiences when they spread beyond the tent to the side hills on the west and north.

Program Well Advertised.
The advertising of the program has not been forgotten. Three thousand five hundred copies of the official program have been mailed to residents on the rural routes out of this city. Three thousand have been distributed in the cities of Whitewater, Edgerton, Evansville, Brodhead and Clinton, and between two thousand five hundred and two thousand seven hundred are now being scattered in Janesville. Season tickets have been placed in fourteen different stores here and Secretary Reeder is now securing a corps of young ladies to dispose of them at a commission.

Ample Employees Engaged.
All employees have been engaged for the season. Al. Smith, Sr., has been secured for gatekeeper at the arch and Edward Peterson for gatekeeper at the "river dock." Frank Andrews will be in charge of the laborers and superintend the watchmen.

CASE ADJOURNED; BOYS OUT ON BAIL

District Attorney's Absence from City Delays Trial of Eddie Barry and Johnnie Hessian.

At ten o'clock Friday morning the trial of Eddie Barry and Johnnie Hessian, the juveniles charged with burglary and theft, will be resumed in municipal court and meanwhile both boys are out on five hundred dollars bail. The case was called at nine this morning and on motion of O. A. Oestreich, appearing in place of District Attorney Fisher, who is busy in the Beloit court, adjournment was taken. Another large gallery of relatives of the two accused lads and friends and acquaintances of tender years was in the court room. Yesterday afternoon the Hessian boy was released by bail. His bonds were signed by R. J. Finley and Frank Crook. Barry was similarly set free this morning. Mrs. Johanna Murphy and James Reed giving bail.

Subscribers intending to spend a week or more out of the city and wishing to have The Gazette sent to their address will receive the paper much more promptly by notifying this office of change of address on or before the Saturday previous to departure.

MAGNOLIA PEOPLE FLOCK INTO COURT

Witnesses Numerous and Spectators More So at Trial of Civil Suit in Orfordville Court.

Many were the fields and kitchens in the town of Magnolia that were deserted today. A stranger in that district might imagine there was a circus at some nearby town, but the fact is that there was an interesting lawsuit on at Orfordville. K. Rostad is the presiding Justice, James Ward the plaintiff in the case, John Charley the defendant, and numerous neighbors are witnesses while many others are spectators. Ward wants pay for cattle which he alleges he sold Charley. Charley holds that he rendered payment. His defense is that the cattle were sold to him at a sale conducted by Charles Kline, a neighbor, and that he (Charley) gave Kline a note for them. This and other notes received at the sale Kline turned over to the bank of Albany and consequently Ward is suing for payment. Attorney J. J. Cunningham of this city is appearing for Charley.

JACK-THIEF HUGGER AGAIN BUSY HERE

Girl Seized on Monterey Bridge—Two Young Ladies Approached in Third Ward.

Is there a Jack-the-hugger abroad in the city or has there lately been an unusual prevalence of insults offered to women? Three cases of young ladies being approached by unknown men have come to light within the past few days. One instance occurred on the Monterey bridge Monday night. Three children of a local contractor residing on Riverside street started to playfully run across the bridge. The oldest one, a girl of about fifteen, was seized by a boy she believed to be sixteen or seventeen years of age. He asked her what she was running for and then allowed her to go. A high school girl was caught in the arms of a stranger on Oakland avenue after she had been spending the evening with a chum. She screamed and the unknown fled. A servant girl employed in a family residing on Court street was similarly approached and by screams frightened off her would-be friend.

CAMP OF W. O. W. ORGANIZED HERE

Twenty-four Charter Petitioners Formed Camp of Woodmen of the World Last Night.

Janesville Camp of the Woodmen of the World was organized in this city last evening with 24 charter petitioners by Will T. Moss, Madison, district manager. The following officers were elected at the first meeting: Consul Commander, J. L. Harper; Advisory Lieutenant, W. A. Hitchcock; Banker, H. D. Murdoch; Clerk, C. J. Hendricks; Escort, Clarence Micka; Watchman, Henry Micka; Sentry, Mr. Hathorn; Camp Physicians, Dr. P. B. Farnsworth and Dr. M. A. Cunningham; Managers, B. H. Miller, J. L. Harper and Chas. Weaver; Camp Deputy, J. L. Harper.

Passenger Delayed: Owing to the loosening of the tire on one of the drivers of engine 17, pulling C. & N. W. passenger train No. 22, it was necessary to bring the engine back to Janesville this morning and send out engine 53 to continue the trip. The change in engines between here and Milton Junction caused an hour's delay to the train.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Others Must Comply: Some months ago Prof. Z. O. Bowen, the astrologist, was haled into Municipal court on the charge of posting small cards on telegraph and telephone poles in violation of the law. He removed all his advertisements and the case was dropped. Since then other advertising matter has appeared on poles and in this evening's Gazette he announces that he will shut out to all this billboard space that was prohibited to him. His method of procedure will be swearing out warrants for the prosecution of offenders.

Examination Adjourned: Frank Osgood, a former railway conductor and now a hostler making his home at the European hotel, appeared in Municipal court this morning, being charged with receiving stolen harness. His examination was adjourned until half-past one o'clock Friday afternoon. District Attorney John L. Fisher being engaged in the Municipal court at Beloit. It is now hinted that another person may be implicated in the case.

Four Drunks in Court: Thomas Riley, Ed Duval, Ed O'Malley and Jack Delaney were found intoxicated on the streets last night and this morning went before Judge Fifield to answer to the charge of being drunk and disorderly. All pleaded guilty. Riley and Duval were each fined $2 and costs of $1.10 or sentenced to five days in jail. Both are laborers and their sentences were suspended a week, giving them a chance to earn enough to settle for the trouble they caused the police and court. O'Malley is a stranger in the city and Delaney a wanderer and each was given two hours in which to disappear from the town.

Marriage License: Andrew J. York of Beloit and Cora B. Brown of Edgerton have been granted a marriage license from the office of County Clerk Lee.

Miss Dixon Hostess: Miss Rose Dixon entertained last Sunday at her suburban home in the town of Rock in honor of the Misses Margaret Golden and Esther McKellogg of Chicago. Miss Kathryn Walsh of Rock and Center and Miss Mary Conlon, who is to leave for Dakota. A beautiful supper was served to about thirty. The Misses Margaret Golden and Lull Foley and Mr. Jesse Meadows entertained with a number of vocal and musical selections. Besides those mentioned who were from out of the city was Mr. Frank Walsh of Fort Atkinson.

FRIGHTENED BY AGED PROWLER

APPEARANCE IN FOURTH AVE. HOME DROVE MRS. SHELDON INTO HYSTERICS.

AT SIX O'CLOCK THIS A. M.

Unknown Man Was Held at Bay on Prof. Thiele's Porch by Fox-Terrier—Ran Away from Poorhouse.

Awakened at six o'clock this morning by the frantic barking of his little fox-terrier and summoned by the uproar to the front porch of his residence at 117 Fourth avenue, Prof. William T. Thiele was astonished to see an aged man with a swollen and bloody nose, framed by a twisted mustache, shaggy gray hair, and a black derby, making as if to come up the steps on hands and knees but keeping watchful eyes on the dog. When asked to explain his strange actions the man got up on his feet and after offering a few words in an unintelligible jargon, began to shuffle across the street. He was about six feet tall, was dressed in a suit of black, with the trousers from the knees down bespattered with mud and torn as if from contact with a barbed wire fence.

Frightened into Hysterics.
The front door of Harry Sheldon's residence across the street was unlocked, and the strange individual pushed in without the formality of a warning knock. Confronted by the sudden apparition and frightened out of her wits by his mutterings and gestures, Mrs. Sheldon went into hysterics and had not fully recovered from the experience at a late hour this forenoon. In the meantime the family had been aroused and had come to her assistance, and Officer Thomas Morrissey, in response to a telephone message from Prof. Thiele, was hurrying to the scene. The unknown man was hustled to the police station and placed in the lock-up, pending inquiries as to his identity and former whereabouts.

Left County House at Dawn.
Subsequently it was learned that the individual had been brought in from Milton, at the direction of P. M. Green, chairman of the town, and quartered at the county poorhouse at one o'clock last evening. His escort could give no information concerning the man, further than that he had been loitering around the Milton depot for several days past and appeared to have no visible means of support. He was given a bed and staid there until sometime between the hours of three and four this morning when he got into an altercation with another inmate and after a scuffle, picked up his hat and departed. It is hardly probable that he belongs in Rock county. Supt. Kilham seems to think that he probably came from a distance and dropped off a train at Milton. In view of his actions, it is probable that he is mentally unbalanced, though the Milton officials seem not to have suspected this, and an examination by physicians will doubtless be ordered.

MACHINE COMPANY ENJOYS PROSPERITY

And Mr. Rockefeller himself is in no wise to blame for that result.

Signs Must Come Down.
Prof. Z. O. Bowen, manager of the Compendium of Astrology at No. 10 Corn Exchange, says that all advertising signs posted on telephone or electric light poles in Janesville are contrary to law, and inasmuch as he was compelled to remove signs 4 in. by 6 in. it seems no more than fair play that all others should comply with the same law, and Prof. Bowen serves notice that warrants will be issued at once against all offenders.

PROF. Z. O. BOWEN.

In the large cities the small depositor goes to the small banking institutions as the great banks are so enormous that the individual customer does not get the personal attention that is his due. If the same feeling exists in the country there is no excuse for it in our case. This bank is not large enough to neglect any business entrusted to its care and believes that its smaller depositors are entitled to the same attention and service that it gives to its large customers. Any account, however small, is an evidence of good will and we value it accordingly.

DISASTER NOT DUE TO CARELESSNESS

GEORGIA AND CREW RECENTLY FOUND VERY EFFICIENT.

ONLY ONE THEORY HELD

Spark Floated Through Open Scuttle of Turret—President Roosevelt Sends Message to Navy Department.

Washington, July 17.—It is said at the navy department that it is extremely improbable that the accident aboard the battleship Georgia resulted from any carelessness or lack of precaution on the part of the personnel of the ship. A short time ago a thorough inspection was made of every detail of the Georgia's ordnance by Commander Schofield, one of the most expert of the ordnance officers of the navy.

This inspection included every one of the guns, the details of the turret mechanism, the workings of the ammunition hoists, (which in the case of the superimposed turrets of the Georgia are rather more complicated than in the ordinary type) and, finally, and most important, the handling of the guns and mechanism and ammunition by the sailors. It was found that the ship's company was very efficient at all points and it was certain that they were following closely the firing regulations in every essential detail.

Only One Explanation.

In the absence of any other plausible explanation the officials here are disposed to give consideration to the theory advanced by some of the Georgia's officers when they came ashore at Boston, that the powder charge of the eight-inch gun was fired accidentally by a clot of soot, which came floating down smoldering from the ship's smoke pipe and settled by chance into the open scuttle on top of the turret, alighting directly on the 50-pound bag of smokeless powder in the arms of the loader at the breach of the gun.

Message from President.

The following telegram from President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay regarding the accident of the battleship Georgia was received at the navy department Tuesday afternoon:

"I am inexpressibly shocked and grieved at the dreadful accident on the Georgia and the death of the gallant officers and men. I wish full particulars at the earliest possible date. Let me know the condition of the wounded men. Repeat this to the captain of the Georgia."

Walsh is Ninth Victim.

Boston, July 17.—The bodies of six of the victims of the explosion on board the battleship Georgia have been claimed by relatives and sent home from the United States naval hospital at Chelsea, and two more bodies will be sent Wednesday. The body of the ninth victim of the disaster, Seaman Edward F. Walsh, of Lynn, who died Tuesday afternoon, still lies on the cot at the naval hospital where his life went out. Walsh's mother, Mrs. M. Walsh, of 28 Seymour avenue, Lynn, and a brother of the seaman, were with him when he died. His body will be taken to Lynn for interment.

Yamamoto Sends Flowers.

At the head of each cot in the naval hospital stands a bouquet of flowers sent by Admiral Yamamoto, of the Japanese navy, through his aide, Lieut. Commander Naomichi Taniguchi.

Beautiful wreaths bearing the colors of Japan and the card of the Japanese admiral were also placed on the coffins of Lieut. Goodrich and Midshipman Goldthwaite when their bodies were sent home, and bouquets similarly inscribed accompanied the body of each seaman.

TELL OF KIDNAPING PLOT

WITNESSES ARE HEARD IN THE LAMANA MURDER CASE.

Leonardo Gebbia Turns State's Evidence—Mrs. Campisciano, Implicated by Jennie Garitto.

Hahnville, La., July 17.—The wide extent of the Italian plot which caused the kidnaping and subsequent strangling of Walter Lamana developed in Tuesday's testimony against four of the alleged murderers. In addition, evidence that may help to hang Mrs. Campisciano, one of the women accused, was introduced.

Several persons, in addition to the ten indicted, were connected with the plot by two witnesses, Leonardo Gebbia and Mrs. Peter Lamana, the murdered boy's mother. Gebbia, who turned state's evidence, told of overhearing the agreement made in jail between Campisciano, the most important prisoner on trial, and another Italian whose name was not given. In return for giving a home to Campisciano's children if he should be arrested or hanged, Campisciano promised not to implicate his man in any way.

Jennie Garitto, a pretty Italian girl, gave the evidence against Mrs. Campisciano. She said that she and relatives had heard the kidnaped boy screaming: "Oh, Charley," and "Oh, mamma," in a house near the Campiscianos, and that they had set out to learn what was the matter. Mrs. Campisciano came out of her house and stopped these would-be investigators, assuring them that the boy was only calling the cows. The witness also saw the boy taken into Campisciano's house and saw him escape, pursued by a man, who carried him back with one hand over the child's mouth. Four other witnesses corroborated her testimony.

IMMIGRATION RECORDS BROKEN.

Aliens to Number of 1,285,349 Came in Last Fiscal Year.

Washington, July 17.—All immigration records in the history of the country were broken by the aggregate returns for the fiscal year 1907, which ended on June 30 last. The total number of alien immigrants landed in America during the year was 1,285,349, as against 1,100,735 landed during the fiscal year of 1906. The increase during the past year was about six per cent. over the greatest number of immigrants that ever arrived in America heretofore in a single year.

A total of 5,902 arriving immigrants were debarred from admission to the country during the last six months.

Officers of Railway Mail Clerks.

LINK WITH THE DEAD PAST.

Woman Has Handkerchief Stained with Blood of Charles I.

An interesting Derbyshire "link with the past" is recalled by Mr. J. H. Sharpley of Hatfield college, Doncaster, in a letter to the Sheffield Telegraph. He says: "In 1872, when a boy, staying at Hulland ward, Derbyshire, I called on an old woman, Elizabeth Durose, then 95, widow of a farmer, who told me that her grandmother, when a girl, had known a man—a distant relative—who had witnessed the execution of Charles I. The old woman then took out of a corner cupboard an old prayer-book, bound in black leather, which was, I fancy, of the time of Queen Anne, for I remember it had a frontispiece picturing a parson in gown and bands, and wearing a long wig, saying prayers in a three-decker." Opening it at the form of service for January 30, she showed me a piece of coarse linen, of the color of a dead leaf, which she said was a portion of a handkerchief which had been dipped in the king's blood, and was given to her grandmother by the above eye-witness. When it first passed into her possession it was nearly entire, but her children had played with it, and this was all she had managed to preserve."—Derby (England) Telegraph.

Useful Unique Bandbox.

One woman has a bandbox in which she keeps her good hat so arranged that the side opens like a swinging door, so that she can readily remove the hat from the box without the awkward necessity of taking the latter down from the high closet shelf.
